I think if you look up the Federal law it say it i8s againt the law for any bank to take money out of your account with out your permission And I know the Federal Goverment turns the head when it come to big corp. The goverment is for the people not big corp. and every time the goverment trys to help it ends up costing the people more money. I am sick and tired of big corp getting away with highway robbery. The bank make enough money of of the mo.service fees they do not need over draft fee also. Just so some CEO can live high on the hog at every buddies money. There should be no over draft fees at all and that not counting the money they charge just for to get our own money out of a atm they charge 2.00 dollars when you use a atm then they take another two dollars out of one checking acount then when you use your debet card there is a misc fee of about .25 to 35 cents all so. I have never seen so many crooks in my life enough is enough stop the stealing
