Please stop the money gouging tactics of the credit card companies. I work for the USPS and have seen firsthand how people are cheated. When we first came out with delivery confirmation, I tried it out on a credit card payment and I'm glad I did as they charged me a late fee saying it took 12 days to receive my payment. Delivery confirmation showed that they received it in two days. This is just one example of the kinds of things these companies do on a regular basis. Thanks for your consideration, W.S. Bloss
