Subject: Regulation AA

Jul 29, 2008

Dear Email comments,

It is unconscionable the way banks and credit card providers have raped and pillaged the public. Shame on Them... After viewing MAXED OUT it has shown me the ways the banks and credit card providers prey upon those less fortunate. THE banking scandle has to be reined in. The Congress must do something to provide adequate protection for the masses.

Please forgive the misspelling, my mind is not like it once was and my eye sight is fading, but not enough to prevent me from voicing me from letting you know that something must be done.

Sincerely,

Mr. Richard Izquierdo
