Subject: Regulation AA

Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

I strongly encourage and support immediate Government action to regulate unfair, unethical and greedy practices by credit card issuers to basically screw the average consumer citizen. Current rules used by credit card companies are preposterous!! In my business do you think my clients would stand for raising rates even on work already performed at agreed upon rates? Or change agreement terms at any time without notice or valid reason? Or charge customers for payments already received? What kind of business practices are these? Such greed and lack of ethics is why the US financial markets are in such a humongous mess. DO SOMETHING to rein in these creeps!!

Sincerely,

Mr. Henry Hyde
