Comments:

Huntington Bank in Ohio charges $37.50 per overdrafted item and enjoys hitting college students with this more than ever for making possibly 5 transactions totalling $10 overdrawn and getting hit with over $300 in fees. This seems to be horribly disgusting and somehow just not legal. This interest is so unlawful and such taking advantage of young adults just learning to deal with money. It makes no sense to them that the balance on their receipt is not the actual balance. It truly believe this Bank needs investigated on the grounds of deliberately targeted college students and then generating huge sources of revenue off of them
