

From: Brenda N. Riveros
Subject: Electronic Fund Transfers

Comments:

To whom it might concern,

It is an abomination that banks have the authority to decide for us on their overdraft protection services. We are putting our money under their protection so they can work and survive and instead they steal from us. I believe that the customer should decide if they want to be enrolled or not in such a program.

Regards,

Brenda N. Riveros