My son recently was charged $363.00 (11 overdraft fees @ $33.00 EACH) in overdraft fees by using his ATM card for 11 transactions totaling $93.80 (most of these transactions ranged from 2.50 - 7.50 for campus meals). This is absurd! Not one single transaction in a 2 week period was declined even though he was overdrawn??? This is a college kid, who just didn't know better.

Although I agree he should be dinged at some point to learn a valuable lesson.

This is way over the top.
