Don't be have laws about price setting? Some of the loans that I close as a mortgage broker are easy and I price lower with a lower gross. Others that are more time consuming, take longer to close, complex credit issues, credit repair, etc, I price on a larger gross as they take more time and let's not forgot, time is money. I'm not steering, borrowers into exotic mortgages!!! Remember, they don't exist any longer. I'm working very hard at providing a professional service and raising a family in VT. Don't other people that provide a service get to make a living? How about chopping those expletive deleted on Wall Street? I'm sure a few of them make a commission on selling something to somebody..... Let's say a stock???? Wasn't it their greed that put us here? I think it was..... What a waste of time. Thanks Cuomo. Who are you going to pick on next?? Should we call you Joe Mc?
