This proposal is completely doing the opposite of what its intended to do and that is protect the consumer. This is just another way of keeping our country on this ass backwards track. First it was HVCC and then MDIA now this new law. I think these lawmakers are really trying to take over and make it more difficult for property ownership. Keep your hands out of our way of making a living, all the bad apples are out of the industry and are back to tending bar or striping. The few of us who are left are the true passionate professionals who are trying to rebuild our real-estate industry.
