once again, gov is giving big banks a large advantage. banks will still receive yield spread (maybe by another name) (servicing release premium) but the bottom line is higher costs for the consumer. with no competition, we know what happens. higher prices and costs! is this admin blind to small business? 67% of toxic loans were done by banks. and yet the admin continues to support them. 6 million apx. workers out of the home industry, yet gov continues forcing honest small business out in favor of big business. small business is what america is all about. we used to employ most of americas" workers, but slowly this is going away. is it because of the large banking lobby? are our congressmen blind to small business? let us compete on even ground! THE CONSUMER IS BETTER SERVED WITH COMPETITION
