Breaking up the mega banks, making banks responsible for all of their actions, with a clear reporting of banks actual earnings, losses and risk without hiding facts is critically important to all Americans financial well being. All financial institutions must come under the same umbrella of honesty, openness and fair dealing, That includes all finance companies and other lenders of monies. Gaining control of banking is imperative to a sound economy. This country, some members of Congress in particular, has been hoodwinked into believing that mega Bankers have the best interest of their investors at stake, they do not. Mega Bankers instead have lined their own pockets at the expense of the American people. Our current economy is directly suffering from Bankers Greed . America is suffering from Bankers Greed. We must break up the mega banks, we must gain control of all banking and other business in this country. Today we have huge numbers of big business interest (tails wagging the dog) calling ALL the shots in Congress. We DO NOT have a representative government, instead we have political magicians pretending to do the will of the people. . We resent it..
