Oh Please. For once try to uphold laws that help the average person, the individual, to be treated as equals to these giant financial corporations. Or are you going to continue to give these corporations 'free' money so they can steal houses from the American people? Has the American system become nothing but a game of theft and power? Do NOT change the homeowners rescission law to favor the giant banking cartels that have brought the world economy to ruin with gambling and speculations. It is bad enough that you bail out these crooks and con men when their debts go bad. Do not let them prey even more on average Americans. How disgusting.
