Comments:

Our card holders enjoy the opportunity to build or rebuild credit if have had misfortune in life. They would not have the option to rent a vehicle, hotel, or fly. Our card holders rely on credit cards to go to work or for emergency use that we all understand. We need to give them the privilege of having a credit card and they can improve to more credit opportunities such as buying a home or vehicle. The fees offset the risk to allow credit to cardholders that are unable to qualify for prime rate credit cards.
