Comments:

I have owned a Mortgage company for 25 years now, and had stopped major advertising 10 years ago because I create such a great service to my community for real estate financing. By applying the existing lending policy options for borrowers (yield spreads), I am able to tailor a loan that fits their situation the best. I receive many referrals because of this service. I am a business college graduate and professional in my field. My customers get the best of advice and options for them. To take away this from them, hurts their pocketbook. Banks do not hire licensed professional, and therefore, little professional help is involved. Please keep (YSP) for mortgage brokers to service their clients the best. Thank you.
