

From: Wendell McShan
Subject: Regulation Z - Truth in Lending

Comments:

Public Comments on Regulation Z; Truth in Lending:

Title: Regulation Z; Truth in Lending
FR Document Number: 2010-20663
Legacy Document ID:
RIN: null
Publish Date: Fri Sep 24 00:00:00 EDT 2010
Submitter Info:

first_name Wendell
last_name McShan
address1
city
country United States
us_state
zip
email
company

The new format for the notice of right to cancel may be problematic in that by only having the borrower initial the form may lead to abuse; because, initials are a lot easier to forge than full signatures.

Also, under the current regulation some lenders require seperate notices for each signer while other require multiple signatures on the saame notice. Which is correct?