Dear Federal Reserve:

Sirs:

I am writing on behalf of Weis Markets, a Mid-Atlantic supermarket company operating 164 stores in six states. In 2010, our debit swipe fees totaled $14 million -- costs which were paid by our customers.

It is for these reasons we are strongly opposed to the repeal or delay of the implementation of the Durbin Amendment which allows the Federal Reserve to set debit swipe fees.

Potentially, the Durbin Amendment will give millions of dollars of relief to our customers at a time of high unemployment and low consumer confidence. Ultimately, we see it as a choice between big banks and Wall Street v the interests of our business and most importantly our customers.
