Comments:

Once again the slippery slime in congress does the American people in by granting Big Business another chunk of our cash.
We just cannot seem to get rid of the greedy bastards no matter how hard we try.

This law put in by the democrats last year will cause banks to start charging consumers "fees" to make up for the shortfall that Big Business used to pay in the terms of debit and credit card charges.
When Big Business uses the government to control costs so that it can in effect "take a larger slice of the pie" at the expense of consumers it's time to drop the hammer.
Stop this law now.
