To Whom it May Concern,

I was astounded to see that serious consideration is being given to modification of this truth-in-lending section of mortgage loan documents. The reason why the so many people are losing their homes is not just because homeowners cannot afford mortgage payments and may have lost their jobs, but it is mainly because regulations in place for years to prevent what has happened in the real estate market were deregulated by greedy politicians and banks. I'm sick of it. There are more homes for sale on my street because of foreclosure than I have ever seen.

I will be calling the White House about this and will be looking to see what the Congress in Washington is going to do when this comes up. People will remember and will take actions to get those who vote for this insane proposal out of office. In fact, I don't think people will wait for an election.
