Comments:

You have no doubt received many comments that include the many negative ramifications of this bill on Seller Financing. I will not reiterate them here. I will, however, add my voice to the objection of the passing of the bill as it stands. In a Free Country, citizens should be able to conduct business as they see fit. Too much interference penalizes the very folks that government seeks to help. There are two doors. Freedom and Security. If we always choose Security over Freedom, we lose both.
