In the interest of entrepreneurship and the well being of private enterprise, I sincerely hope that this proposal is struck down. Private homeowners are NOT banks or financial institutions. This proposal will deny many the opportunity to own a home. I find it very unfortunate that this administration is willing to give the Fed this kind of power. This will not be forgotten in the upcoming elections. Word of advice, if there is sincere interest in improving the economy, allow small businesses and entrepreneurs operate lawfully. It is big business that is responsible for the recent turmoil, yet as always, the "little guy" foots the bill. We do not have bail outs as giant corporations do. If you care so little for small businesses and individual rights, then you care not what becomes of our nation.
