Fed Stopping real estate owners from seller financing their properties is an infringement upon my constitutional rights of freedom. The Fed has NO business telling me what I can do with MY property. Hell 3/4 of the folks on the freeway cannot qualify for a loan because the banks will not loan to them and now the Fed wants to tell real estate owners that they cannot owner finance their homes unless they qualify to the terms of a conventional mortgage. Who thought this crap up? Some socialist? This is America where free enterprise is what American business is all about in today's world. The law suits will be flying over the Fed using this Nazi tactic of telling property owners what they can and cannot do with their own property.
