I guess it is true that common sense is not very common any more, and Non existent within the Political Arena. Can you all do the right thing for a change and dump this STUPID law, plus how in good faith can you not allow someone to sell something and carry the financing for it when they own it. Is that really even your call, or is this even constitutional? Why don't you all get back to try to run a balanced budget and quit interfering with business, which you know nothing about!
