This is another attempt by the Big banks to steal the rights of Americans through monetary enslavement of them. The ability to sell one's home to whoever and however is an ability that has transended all the way from the Magna Carta and should never be impinged by outsiders solely with a perceived monetary interest that they otherwise could never have had. They offer nothing except misery and theft to our Society and it's time the Politicians & the Court's quit taking their money and start upholding the existing rights and laws of every American against them. One doesn't even have to be knowledgeable of colluding to be colluding... and that's what our Govt. & Courts are doing. Stop the Looting... Start the Prosecuting.
