Your comment: yes , I would like to see this rule go through on residential real estate also, is it possible to institute a fine system, including criminal penalties for all public officials who interfere with home ownership in any way? Its a matter of the constitutional right to private property in my opinion. Also housing inflation and insurance costs are soaring, inflation is out of control. Possibly tax housing and insurance related campaign contributions and put that into an insurance pool , let each state control its own flood insurance program to bring down the cost of flood insurance, wind and hail.
