Your comment: I understand the raises in increase rate to combat inflation, have you given ample time for the interest rates to work? Employment has reached a point of employees wanting a bigger part of the pie, but without understanding the cost of running a business. The days of thirty year loyal employees is a thing of the past, but with the people woh have been bused from Texas to New York and all over the country should be allowed to work in places that entitled American refuse to work even without legal papers. If it wasn't for those people the farms in the south could not get their products to market. Please make an exception to your rules to accept their help. Thank you
