It is not acceptable for a bank to tell me I cannot spend my money that I earned at my job. It is not acceptable for a bank to tell me when and where to spend my money that I earned at my job.

If I want to buy artwork, or a game, or a piece of clothing, I should not have to submit to the approving whims of a bank. It is my money. I should be able to spend it when and where and how I want. A bank is not my parent, I am not a child; it is a financial entity that should not be able to veto my ability to make adult decisions. It is stepping over a fine line into dangerous territory to suggest anything else.
