Length of Credit Plan	You can borrow money for 10 years and must make minimum monthly payments during that time. At the end of this period, you must repay the remaining balance in full.
Balloon Payment	If you make only the minimum payment each month you will not pay off your entire balance by the end of the line of credit. At that time, you will have to pay the remaining balance in a single payment, known as a "balloon payment."

How Your Minimum Monthly Payments Are Determined
Your minimum monthly payment will cover only interest and will not pay down your balance.

Sample Payments
The table shows examples of your first monthly payments at the current and maximum APRs if you borrow $80,000 when you open your account and do not borrow any more money. No matter what your rate is, you will owe a balloon payment of $80,000 if you made only minimum monthly payments.
These are not your actual payments. Your actual payment each month will depend on the amount that you have borrowed and the interest rate that month.
APR	Borrowing Period (Years 1-10) First Payment

You May Not Be Able to Borrow From Your Line of Credit	Under certain circumstances, we can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Terminate your line of credit, make you pay the outstanding balance in one payment, and charge you fees upon termination;</li> <li>• Not allow you to borrow any more money, even if it is available under your credit limit;</li> <li>• Lower your credit limit; and</li> <li>• Make other changes to the plan.</li> </ul> See your account agreement for details.
The Interest You Pay May Not Be Tax-Deductible	If you borrow more than your home is worth, the interest on the extra amount may not be deductible for federal income tax purposes. Consult a tax advisor to find out whether the interest you pay is deductible.
