System name. FRB—Disciplinary and Adverse Action Records

System location.
Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
20th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20551

Categories of individuals covered by the system. Past and present Board employees (including special employees) who were or are involved in a disciplinary or adverse action.

Categories of records in the system. This system contains records and documents on the processing of adverse actions and disciplinary actions. The following categories of records are maintained in this system: copies of the notice of proposed action, materials relied on by the Board to support the reasons in the notice, replies by the employee, statements of witnesses, hearing notices, record of hearings, reports, appeals and related documents, Board decisions, and records related to the Personnel Placement Program.

Authority for maintenance of the system. Sections 10 and 11 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 USC 244 and 248).

Purpose(s). These records are collected and maintained to assist the Board in administering its personnel functions, and to maintain a record of proceedings in a disciplinary or adverse action.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses. General routine uses A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, and J apply to this system. Records may also be used:

1. to disclose information to any source from which additional information is requested (to the extent necessary to identify the individual, inform the source of the purpose(s) of the request, and identify the type of information requested), when necessary to obtain information relevant to a Board decision to hire or retain an employee, issue a security clearance, conduct a security or suitability investigation of an individual, classify jobs, let a contract, or issue a license, grant, or other benefit;

2. in producing summary descriptive statistics and analytical studies to support the function for which the records are collected and maintained, or for related workforce studies (While published statistics and studies do not contain individual identifiers, in some instances the selection of elements of data included in the study may be structured in such a way as to make the data individually identifiable by inference.);

3. to provide an official of another federal agency information he or she needs to know in the performance of his or her official duties or reconciling or reconstructing data files, in support of the functions for which the records were collected and maintained; and
4. to disclose information to the Department of Labor, Department of Veterans Administration, Social Security Administration, Department of Defense, a Federal Reserve Bank, or any other federal agencies that have special civilian employee retirement programs; or to a national, state, county, municipal, or other publicly recognized charitable or income security, administration agency (e.g., state unemployment compensations agencies), when necessary to adjudicate a claim under the retirement, insurance, unemployment, or health benefits programs of the Board, a Federal Reserve Bank, or any agency cited above, or to an agency to conduct an analytical study or audit of benefits being paid under such programs.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system.

Storage. Records are stored in paper and electronic form.

Retrievability. Records can be retrieved by the names of the individuals on whom they are maintained.

Safeguards. Access to records is limited to those whose official duties require it. Paper records are secured by lock and key and electronic records are password protected.

Retention and disposal. Records are maintained for seven years after the case is closed.
