7100 AD 86

Dear Board of Governors,

I support the Fed's proposed rule to strengthen oversight of Foreign Banking Organizations. The Fed is right to address the risks that large, interconnected banks, like Deutsche Bank, pose to the U.S. financial system. We cannot afford to allow Too Big To Fail banks like Deutsche Bank to operate without stronger capital and liquidity positions in their U.S. operations. Foreign banks should be held to at least the same standard as U.S. banks.

Funds received by Deutsche Bank during the U.S. gov't bailout of Too Big To Fail banks:

$11.8 billion As one of the largest counterparties to AIG.

$2 billion As the second heaviest user of emergency funds from Fed's discount window.

+$354 billion As one of the largest users of low-cost emergency funding programs.
