Subject: Regulation AA

Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

I am in favor of tougher rules on credit card companies. As a former credit card customer of Bank of America who was in good standing, I could not believe the latitude allowed so they could raise interest rates so much. This major show of disrespect to consumers along with many other similar occurrences show that Credit card companies need to be more closely regulated. I urge you to pass these regulations.

Sincerely,

Mr. Erick Meyer
